NEXT FACULTY MEETING

The next faculty meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, October 10, 2007, from 4:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Campus Center South Lounge.

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Guillaume de Syon, History, had three articles published. The first, "Soyez unis pour notre ville": Walter Kolb et la reconstruction touristique de Francfort après la Seconde Guerre mondiale," in Philippe Duhamel and Rémy Knafou's Mondes urbain du Tourisme (Paris: Editions Belin); The second, "Comment se mouvoir en l'air' ou la réinvention du dirigeable de Meusnier à Zeppelin," in Les archives de l'invention (Toulouse: CNRS); The third, "Lufthansa Welcomes You: Air Transport and Tourism in the Adenauer Era," in Advertising and German Modernity, ed. Jonathan Wiesen et al. (Duke University Press.)

Victor Forte, Religious Studies, has written reviews for The Journal of Chinese Philosophy on Did Dogen Go To China? What He Wrote and When He Wrote It, by Steven Heine, and for Dao: The Journal of Comparative Philosophy on Buddhisms and Deconstructions, Edited by Jin Y. Park.

Karen Jogan, Modern Foreign Language, was the opening plenary speaker for the annual conference of ANUPI (Asociacion Nacional Universitaria de Profesores de Ingles), held in Puerto Vallarta Mexico in September. Her address was titled "Opening New Horizons in Assessment for ELT". Karen and her ESL graduate student, Jill Fidazzo, were presenters at the annual convention of Peru TESOL, held in Tacna Peru in August. Karen also has been awarded grant funding through the Chilean Ministry of Education's program to improve higher education in Chile. She will be working with a team to design an e-portfolio evaluation protocol for the undergraduate and graduate foreign language programs at Universidad Arturo Pratt in Iquique Chile.

Julia Matthews, Theatre, can be heard as a featured soloist on the New Trinity Baroque recording of Carissimi Oratorios, "Jonas & Jephthe," released by Edition Lilac (2007).

Theresa C. Smith, Political Science, provided significant editorial assistance for the following recently published text, The Miller Method: Developing the Capacities of Children on the Autism Spectrum, by Arnold Miller and Kristina Chretien.

Jerry Tartaglia, English, will be presenting the restored films of Jack Smith at the Center For Contemporary Art in Antwerp, Belgium in October.

Kristen Woodward, Art, will have a work on paper and a small painting on display in an international juried art exhibit titled Columbus: Villain or Hero, at Savacou Gallery, 240 East 13th St, New York. The show opens on Thursday, October 4, as part of a festival called 'Art Off the Main'.

PROVOST'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

PDE Approval of Masters Program

In late September, the College received notice from the Pennsylvania Department of Education that our program in Education leading either to the Master of Arts (MS) or Master of Science (MS) degree has been granted final approval, following its three year probationary status. Congratulations to all those involved in developing and offering this wonderful educational program.

GEAC Update

Since the faculty retreat, GEAC has been meeting regularly to review the faculty feedback gathered at the retreat on the model. A transcription and summary of that feedback can be found on the Academic Affairs Website, along with other retreat materials and the minutes of GEAC meetings. GEAC meets every Monday, 1:00-2:00 p.m. in the Computer Center Conference Room. All are welcome.

Mark your calendar: Woodrow Wilson Fellow visiting April 13-18, 2008

Don Winkelmann has agreed to visit the campus the week of April 13th. After teaching economics at Iowa State University, Don Winkelmann worked in developing countries for 30 years, forging ties among agriculture's academic, private, and public sectors. From 1972 to 1985 he headed the Economics Program of the International Maize and Wheat Improvement Center in Mexico, which focuses on developing improved technologies for maize and wheat farmers in developing countries. He then headed the Center until 1995, when he became Chairman of the Technical Advisory Committee of the Technical Advisory Committee, Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research, which aims to alleviate poverty and protect the environment in developing countries through improved agricultural technologies. He holds honorary doctorates from Punjab Agricultural University (India) and El Colegio de Postgraduados (Mexico). In 1994 he received the Condecoración del Aguila Azteca, Mexico's award to foreigners. He is active in Santa Fe's civil society, in particular its Council on International Relations and its International Folk Art Market. Some topics of expertise include mediating poverty in developing countries through sustainable agriculture; agriculture's effects on the environment; genetically modified organisms; globalization and rural poor; and immigration.
